MORE ORITICISM FOR COCHRAN'S RIDE OF THE DWYER COLT.

remmy Burns Rides Three Winners, Rese-tint, Predigal Son and Vascal Dance, in Dashing Style—Three Faverites Finish in Front at Aqueduct—Entries.

The defeat of C. F. Dwyer's fine three-yeareld colt Francesco, by St. Maxim—Frances S., in the handloap at Aqueduct yesterday was a staggering blow for the talent and brought down upon the head of Jockey Cochran another avalanche of adverse criticism, such as was levelled at him for his ride on Dwyer's Ethics on Thursday. In the esti-mation of a majority of horsemen, Francesco is the best three-year-old shown at Aque-duct so far, being even the superior of Jacob Worth's Oom Paul, so that for yesterday's race the St. Maxim colt was made an oddson favorite at 4 to 5 to beat a moderate field over seven furiongs. Thomas Monahan's Contend was a strong second choice at threes, while Rocky was well backed at 18 to 5. Franwas not thought to be too much for him. The start was poor, Fabius, 100 to 1, bearing "Father Bill" Daly's colors, getting away flying, while Fair Knight was so completely left at the post that Michaels pulled him up after going half a mile. Francesco got off well, but Cochran soon had him effectually pocketed as they rushed along the backstretch. At the quarter Rocky showed the stretch. At the quarter Rocky showed the with Francesco moving up on even fifth Race—For the longs: cesco took up 120 pounds, yet the burden was not thought to be too much for him. way, with Francesco moving up on even Fifth Race-terms with Fabius, who was dropping away longs; with every stride. At the head of the stretch Rocky led the Dwyer colt by a length, and the crowd felt sure that the latter would carry off the money. But Cochran's finish was not of sufficient vigor to do the trick, for Booker kept at work with Rocky until he had reached the line half a length to the good, hard driven. Francesco beat Con-end a length and a half, with Fabius five good, hard driven. Francesco beat Contend a length and a half, with Fabius five lengths back. The time was 1:27 4-5. It was currently reported that the Dwyers dropped another good bunch of money. There was another turnout of 8,000 men and women, the card being fairly attractive. Three favorites and a second choice succeeded for the form players, while Tommy Burns rode three winners is clever fashion. But there were several tumbles for the talent, especially in the first race, for mares at five and a half furiongs John J. McCafferty's Sir Dixon filly Femesole, who was a noted sprinter last year, made her first appearance as a three-year-old, and as she was reported to be fit the talent grabbed 11 to 5 with much eagerness. May Harrison was widely played at 4 to 1, while Lady Holyrood, White Owl and Elizabeth Moan all received good support. There was a hot tip on Jack McDonald's Templeton, however, that was followed by so many that the St. Saviour filly was never better than 7 to 1. The start appeared to kill Femesole's chances, as she left the barrier absolutely last and could not make herself prominent after that. Templeton and Lady Holyrood took turns at pacemaking for half the distance when the latter began to stop. Then May Harrison challenged Templeton, and they had it out in royal style all the way to the wire, McDonald's filly getting the verdict by a head in 1:08 1-5. Michaels lodged a protest of foul against Booker, but it was not allowed. Early Eve was third three lengths away and a similar distance before Appica.

not allowed. Early Eve was third three lengths away and a similar distance before A.p.ica.

John Boden's smart Hastings filly Rosetint kept up her winning streak by capturing the second event, for two-year-olds at four and a half furiongs. Burns had the mount and it looked a sure thing. But the layers offered even money and later 11 to 10, as there was a flood of money on J. McCafferty's Joe Cobb, Julius Fleischmann's Albaross, a filly by Albert Leda, and the Messis Keene's Gillie, the last-named being second choice at threes. They were off to a poor start but after the first scramble Rosetint and Gillie were apparently trying to run away from the others. Gillie had enough at the top of the stretch and Albaross, ridden by Johnny Martin, set sail for Rosetint. The latter was tiring some at the last sixteenth but Burns put in some hot licks and the favorite won all out by a length in 0.36 3-5. Albaross took the place from Tugai Bey by a length, the latter with Joe Cobb and Gillie finishing heads apart.

A real good thing was let loose in the fourth race in J. Grant Lyman's Prodigal Son, a two-year-old coli by Luke Blackburn-Guiccioli. Burns had the mount and those who were next to the stable gathered in 8 to 1 so quickly that the price was reduced a point. The Messrs Keene's Handspinner was a receding favorite with R. T. Wilson, Jr.'s Exidence a magnet at fours. Burns got Prodigal Son away from the post with a switness of foot that netted a length and a half over W. C. Daly's Bobbinet, backed from 30 to 1 down to fifteens. The latter was neck and neck with Epidemic. This was the order for the first quarter of a mile when Gobbinet began to cut down Prodigal Son's lead until it was just a head. Pown to the wire the Daly filly kept on challenging in bold style, but once again Burns rode

UMPIRE PUTS NEW YORK CAP-TAIN OUT OF THE GAME.

Game Hardly Begun When Doyle Starts to Kick-Brooklyns Defeat Hariemites in Exciting Ten-Inning Contest —Pittsburgs Beaten Again-St. Louis Wins.

The Chicagos yesterday took the lead in the National League race. They beat the Pittsburgs for the second time. The two local teams came together at Washington Park and the game was hardly under way before the New York captain broke out with a kick and was put out of the game. The Brooklyns were the teams to the second part of the secon Brooklyns won in the tenth inning. Boston beat Philadelphia easily and the St. Louis team won its first game, defeating Cincin-nati. There were only two American League games. The Washingtons smothered the Bostons and Cleveland whitewashed St. Louis. Rain prevented the games at Baltimore and Chicago. The National League results and standing follow: Brooklyn, 6: New York, 5.

Brooklyn. 6; NEW YORK, 5.

The link hardly was dry on the paper containing the second instructions to umpires before the captain of the New York was put out of the game by the umpire. It was Doyle who made the kick, but Umpire O'Day, having the instructions drawn up by the National League Executive Committee on Thursday night fresh in his mind, he gave Doyle short shrift and ordered him out of the game before the first baseman had reached the edge of the diamond to register his grow! This took place in the first inning of the Brooklyn. New York game at Washington Park yesterday. Van Hailten attempted to steal third base in the first inning and was thrown out by Ahearn. O'Day's ruling that Van Hailten was out brought Doyle to the front, but, as told, he was quickly squelched. After being ordered out, however, he walked out into the diamond and wrangled for a while, delaying the game and furnishing discouragement for fair-minded patrons of the game who from the non-kicking heretofore this season had to an to hope for a season free from this hundrap to the national sport.

"Served him right," was the general comment as Doyle walked to the bench and Yeager was informed that he would have to play the bag. The undesirable distinction of being the first man of the year to be put but of a National League game for kicking falls to a New York player and the captain of the team at that. Yeager who took Doyle's place made a costly error in the tenth inning, an error that, had Doyle been playing at the time, probably would not have occurred. Doyle's break therefore cost his team dear. Two or three times after the first inning there was grumbling at decisions, each side partaking, but these did not mask the fact that some poor ball was being played.

The game was won by the Brooklyns in the tenth inning and the last two innings were exciting. A mixture of errors, base hits and will scrambles on the base paths had the spectators on edge. First one team then the other looked to have the sa folks toward legal proceedings. "It would injure our interests to make known our plans now," said John T. Brush, chairman of the Executive Committee, vesterday, "but we will make all igorous fight." Brush hinted that there might be several American League stars back in the League ranks before long; but, as one baseball follower observed, the public will believe the players are coming back when they see them back.

Jim Hart, another member of the Executive Committee, said after the meeting that the matter of how to go about recovering players was gone over thoroughly, but he did not think it wise to tip the League's hand, so to speak. The belief was advanced that a sum was set aside to pay lawyers' fees. The committee appointed Charles B Power of Pittsburg, formerly President of a minor league, a fifth umpire and the following order was drawn for umpires' benefit.

Umpires must announce at the beginning of each game the names of the batteries and the umpire. If changes are made during the game, the umpire must at once announce the same to the spectators.

on each team.

Bill Kennedy's wide throw to first on an easy chance gave Brooklyn a run in the seventh inning and put New York one run behind. In the ninth Jackson drew a base on bails and was caught napping off first, but by fine dodging he eluded his pursuers and landed safely on second. Newton threw Dunn's sacrifice wildly to first, Jackson going to third and scoring on Bowerman's fly Kennedy connected for a clinking two-bagger and Dunn scored. For Brooklyn in the ninth, Dahlen walked and Flood singled. Hildebrand hit to Smith and Dahlen was run down between third and bome, Flood taking third. From there he scored on Irwin's fly to Brookle.

In the tenth Yeager took first base on balls, and Jackson's two-bagger to the fence scored him. Newton began Brooklyn's half of the tenth by going out on a high foul to Ahearn, throwing his bat down like a petulant child Keejer drove a clean liner to left and Dolan hit safely to right. Yan Halturen made a beautiful throw in of Dolan's hit and Dolan could not get back to first. Seeing this he hustled for second. Watching Keeler and Dolan both seemed to be too much for Yeager and he made a bad throw to second, Keeler scoring. Dolan went to third on McCreery's out and Dahlen drew four balls. Flood won the game with a smash to Kennedy that nearly took off the pitcher's leg. The ball bounded over to Lauder and Dolan came home. The score:
